

Maze Runner by James Dashner

If you're not scared, you're not human. Thomas arrives in the Glade in the box with no memory. Everyone that lives in the Glade is a boy. The Glade is surrounded by a giant maze. All of the Gladers want to escape the maze but no one has survived through the night because of griever. Thomas survives a night in the maze and becomes a runner. Runners explore the maze. He wants to find a code to escape but none of the Gladers want to help him. A girl named Teresa shows up and chaos erupts. The walls protecting them from the Grievers don't close at night and lives are lost. Thomas constructs a plan to escape but he knows some people won't survive so he lets everyone make their own choice if they want to join him. Half of the Gladers agree to the escape plan. It's time for a battle with the griever.

I recommend this book to young teens who like adventure and suspense.
